HOT AIR '24 DEM CONVENTION SPECIAL

The Democratic National Convention will kick off Monday in Chicago, one month after Republicans held their convention in Milwaukee. Democratic organizers have had to rework programming entirely for the DNC after President Biden dropped out of the race in late July and endorsed Vice President Harris to replace him on the ticket. ### Pioneer talk show host Phil Donahue dies at 88

The broadcaster was hailed as the father of the modern audience-participation daytime talk show. Donahue's taste for controversial and polarizing subjects birthed a new genre of television.

Phillip John Donahue (December 21, 1935 – August 18, 2024) was an American media personality, writer, film producer and the creator, and host of The Phil Donahue Show. The television program, later known simply as Donahue, was the first popular talk show to feature a format that included audience participation.[1] The show had a twenty-nine-year run on national television that began in Dayton, Ohio, in 1967 and ended in New York City in 1996.

Donahue married actress Marlo Thomas on May 21, 1980.[34] He and Thomas did not have any children together.

In 2014, Phil Donahue's youngest son, James Donahue, died suddenly at the age of 51 from a ruptured aortic aneurysm.[36]

Regarding his religion, Donahue had stated: "I will always be a Catholic. But I want my church to join the human race and finally walk away from this antisexual theology." [2] He also said that he is not "a very good Catholic", and that he did not think it was necessary to have his first marriage annulled.[clarification needed][2] He had expressed admiration of Pope Francis.[37]

Donahue died following a long illness at his home on the Upper East Side of Manhattan, on August 18, 2024, at the age of 88.[38][39]

Trump and the shallow vainglorious insecure "men" who follow him defined the terms. I.e. if you lose, you're less of a man. In fact, you're not a man as they define it. You're a beta, a cuck, Low-T, worthy only of ridicule and sneering contempt.

They make this very clear in every statement, every insult, every post.

Then Trump lost to Joe Biden.

And it eats him alive every single day. He's humiliated. In his mind, he's been emasculated. He HAS to get even. It's pathological. It's all he has.

I've never seen a more drunken, arrogant, ass onstage in my life. It's sort of a legendary show. After an hour and half, someone yelled out "Summer Of 69"

He went apologetic. "What'd you pay to get in here, Motherfucker?!?!" The audience giggled uncomfortably. He jumped off the stage. Confronted the guy. "Here's your money back — NOW GET THE FUCK OUT OF HERE!!!!" The audience sat in a stunned silence.

23h23 hours ago

As he was crawling back onstage, from front of the Mezz I said "If I ask for 'Cuts Like a Knife' can I have my money back?"

He didn't hear exactly what I said, but he heard the mezzanine laughing. I stood up "I'LL SEE MYSELF OUT". I left.

What. A. Prick.

A small group splintered off and broke down some of the barricades; at least four people were arrested. A large police presence cleared the park where the barricades were breached, although by that time most of those lingering were press.

Trump

By Alana Wise

Posted 12 minutes ago

Dun-dun.

Organizers of the DNC mocked former President Trump for his laundry list of felony charges, using imagery from the popular legal drama Law & Order.

"In the criminal justice system, the people are represented by two separate yet equally important groups: the police who investigate crime, and the district attorneys who prosecute the offenders," a voice says in a video, using the show's iconic opening line.

"This is the story of Donald Trump."

The video then flashes to pictures of Trump throughout his adult life with a voiceover accusing the GOP nominee of lying, ripping off workers and sexually abusing women.

"He cheats in business. He cheated on his wife with a porn star and paid her off so the American people wouldn't find out during an election," the voiceover continues.

"But in the criminal justice system, ordinary Americans have had the courage to find him accountable time and time again."

<https://www.npr.org/sections/planet-money/2024/08/19/g-s1-17604/the-white-house-plan-to-stop-companies-from-wasting-our-time>

NPR

A new initiative from The Biden-Harris administration aims to stomp out corporate shenanigans that it says "add unnecessary headaches and hassles to people's days and degrade their quality of life." They're calling it the "Time Is Money" initiative, and it's a suite of executive actions across numerous federal agencies aimed at eradicating time-sucking business practices.

"Companies often deliberately design their business processes to be time-consuming or otherwise burdensome for consumers, in order to deter them from getting a rebate or refund they are due or canceling a subscription or membership they no longer want — all with the goal of maximizing profits," the White House argues in a press release about this initiative.

Metzger, Munder, Popplewell and Buchshtab had family members who were also abducted but freed during a November cease-fire.

An Israeli airstrike on Tuesday killed at least 10 people at a school-turned-shelter in Gaza City, in what the military said was a precise strike on a Hamas command center. Another strike killed a mother and her five children in central Gaza.

"Fact Checking" has become a for-profit business.

These alleged "fact checkers" very obviously have an agenda. There's fact checking, and then there's selective fact checking designed to manipulate public perception, like this nonsense from Politifact. It's true, but ONLY if you deliberately ignore Trump's actual actions and take his bullshit as actual fact -- and only a fool would do that.

At first, fact checkers like Snopes really were altruistic, non partisan, and intended to debunk untruths.

But once they grew and became the de facto authority, power and profit followed. They became the arbiters of social media, hired by the platforms and given power to curate content, and when that happened they had very little choice but to become biased in one direction or the other in order to maintain that power and that income.

Like the Newspapers before them, it's about money.

39m39 minutes ago

They made themselves indispensable, required reading even, during Trump's presidency.

Don't take my word for it, go look at my FB and Twitter and SEE how many times I shared their posts in 2015-2020 or so.

They would like to have that again, but at market rates this time.

Kate Cox, Texas woman denied an abortion, announces she's pregnant again

August 20, 2024 9:57 PM ET

By Lexie Schapitl (npr)

Cox was forced to leave the state to access an abortion in December 2023, after her fetus was diagnosed with Trisomy 18 or Edwards Syndrome, a condition with extremely low chances of survival. Abortion is banned in Texas unless a patient's life or major bodily function is at risk, and the Texas Supreme Court ruled at the time that her lawyers had not proven her eligibility under the narrow exception.

"When I got pregnant, doctors told us our baby would never survive, and if I didn't get an abortion, it would put a future pregnancy at risk," Cox said Tuesday. "But Trump didn't care, and because of his abortion bans, I had to flee my home."

"Today because I found a way to access abortion care. I am pregnant again," she continued.

“And my baby is due in January, just in time to see Kamala Harris sworn in as president of the United States.”

MINNEAPOLIS — Derek Chauvin, the former Minneapolis police officer convicted of killing George Floyd, was transferred to a federal prison in Texas almost nine months after he was stabbed in a different facility, the federal Bureau of Prisons told The Associated Press on Tuesday.

Chauvin, 47, is now housed at the Federal Correctional Institution in Big Spring, a low-security prison. He was previously held in Arizona at FCI Tucson in August 2022 to simultaneously serve a 21-year federal sentence for violating Floyd’s civil rights and a 22 1/2-year state sentence for second-degree murder.

The transfer comes nearly nine months after Chauvin was stabbed 22 times in prison by a negro former gang leader and one-time FBI informant.

Chauvin is making a longshot bid to overturn his federal guilty plea, claiming new evidence shows he didn’t cause Floyd’s death. If he is unsuccessful, he would not be released until 2038.

Because he's ashamed of his own cowardice. He could have served, he ran away instead. Just like Ted Nugent. Back then, it was the cool thing to do. EVERYBODY hated the military and thought we were all suckers and losers and baby killers. Veterans hid their service. Then the Gulf War happened.

Funny thing, suddenly we were ALL heroes. American LOVED us. And after 20 years of the next war, now they want to BE us. They wear camo, carry guns, and drive militarized trucks. And Trump is ashamed.

You think about how many hats you saw BEFORE the First Gulf War. Korean Vet. Vietnam Vet. WWII Vet. The answer is none. Veterans didn't talk about their service. When former Trump White House press secretary Stephanie Grisham spoke at the DNC Convention last night, she came with receipts. While she spoke, a screen grab from an Apple Messages window briefly appeared. It was time stamped 2:25 PM on January 6. Grisham says she was texting Melania Trump:

Grisham: "Do you want to tweet that peaceful protests are the right of every American, but there is no place for lawlessness & violence?"

Melania Trump: "No."

Florida quietly removes LGBTQ+ travel info from its website

WUSF | By Associated Press

Published August 21, 2024 at 3:56 PM EDT

Business owners who cater to Florida's LGBTQ+ tourists said Wednesday that it was the latest attempt by officials in the state to erase the LGBTQ+ community.

Key West, Fort Lauderdale, Wilton Manors and St. Petersburg are among several Florida cities that have long been top U.S. destinations for LGBTQ+ tourists. So it came as a surprise this week when travelers learned that Florida's tourism marketing agency quietly removed the "LGBTQ Travel" section from its website sometime in the past few months.

"It's just disgusting to see this," said Keith Blackburn, who heads the Greater Fort Lauderdale LGBT Chamber of Commerce. "They seem to want to erase us."

Republican Gov. Ron DeSantis previously championed a bill to forbid classroom instruction on sexual orientation and gender identity, and supported a ban on gender-affirming care for minors, as well as a law meant to keep children out of drag shows.

The change to Visit Florida's website was first reported by NBC News, which noted a search query still pulls up some listings for LGBTQ+-friendly places despite the elimination of the section.

John Lai, who chairs Visit Florida's board, didn't respond to an email seeking comment Tuesday. Dana Young, Visit Florida's CEO and president, didn't respond to a voicemail message Wednesday, and neither did the agency's public relations director.

Before the change, the LGBTQ+ section on Visit Florida's website had read, "There's a sense of freedom to Florida's beaches, the warm weather and the myriad activities — a draw for people of all orientations, but especially appealing to a gay community looking for a sense of belonging and acceptance."

Last year, for instance, several civil rights groups issued a travel advisory for Florida, saying that policies championed by DeSantis and Florida lawmakers are "openly hostile toward African Americans, people of color and LGBTQ+ individuals."

But visitors should also understand that many Florida cities are extremely inclusive, with gay elected officials and LGBTQ+-owned businesses, and they don't reflect the policies coming from state government, Blackburn added.

@realDonaldTrump

The highly overrated Jewish Governor of the Great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Josh Shapiro, made a really bad and poorly delivered speech talking about freedom and fighting for Comrade Kamala Harris for President, yet she hates Israel and will do nothing but make its journey through the complexities of survival as difficult as possible, hoping in the end that it will fail. Judge only by her actions! Yet Shapiro, for strictly political reasons, refused to acknowledge that I am the best friend that Israel, and the Jewish people, ever had. I have done more for Israel than any President, and frankly, I have done more for Israel than any person, and it's not even close. Shapiro has done nothing for Israel, and never will. Comrade Kamala Harris, the Radical Left Marxist who stole the nomination from Crooked Joe, will do even less. Israel is in BIG trouble!

I wish it was as simple as that. However when I talk to my rural and blue collar friend and relatives, maybe less sophisticated in critical thinking, but honest, hardworking, and emotionally connected to each other, they see things a different way. For them, the government is like a football team. They see it on losing streak. They don't know why, but changing the coach usually helps. There a lot of people who think like that. You can't just ignore them. Obama said as much in his speech.

When the majority of America sees things like this from the weirdos like Ann Coulter, I actually like it BECAUSE they've tanked themselves. Everytime they open their gross little mouths.

Coulter, Ben Shapiro, Elon musk, Meghan kelly, Charlie Kirk...all of em are contributing to the MAGAts losing power forever because we Americans reject their idiocy, cruelty, brainlessness and lack of empathy.

We won't go back. Let's send all the MAGAts into irrelevance where they belong.

There was no way in hell the profiteers were going to let fact checking remain independent and unbiased. Like everything else in this goddamn country, it's now for profit and you can not -- CAN NOT -- trust it.

Snopes went down this path a while back when they started "fact checking" social media posts to manipulate rankings by ideology. Politifact wasn't far behind. Once these outfits were employed by the media and the billionaires, the "independent" part was dead.

<https://www.npr.org/2024/08/23/g-s1-19229/trump-fact-check-kamala-harris-dnc-speech>

Former President Donald Trump told his followers on Truth Social earlier today that he would be posting throughout Kamala Harris' DNC speech, where she has formally accepted the party's nomination for president.

Here are some of the issues Trump has commented on tonight while Harris has been speaking, with some quick fact-checking.

On abortion: "Everybody, Democrats, Republicans, Liberals, and Conservatives, wanted Roe v. Wade TERMINATED, and brought back to the States."

False: According to a Gallup poll from June 2023, one year after Roe v. Wade was overturned, 61% of respondents said overturning Roe was a "bad thing," while 38% said it was a "good thing." Additionally, an NPR/PBS NewsHour/Marist poll from earlier this year showed that most Americans believe criminalizing abortion is wrong.

On immigration: "She just called to give all Illegals CITIZENSHIP, SAY GOODBYE TO THE U.S.A.! SHE IS A RADICAL MARXIST!"

False: During her acceptance speech tonight, Harris said that she would support a bipartisan border bill on immigration. There is nothing in the text of the bill that would give all undocumented immigrants automatic American citizenship. Additionally, while Harris mentioned that pathways to citizenship should exist, again, this does not equate to automatic citizenship for those in the country illegally.

On his legal troubles: "These Prosecutions were all started by her and Biden against their Political Opponent, ME!"

False: The White House has nothing to do with the cases brought against Former President Trump, whose four current criminal cases were brought against him by New York state court, the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, Georgia state court, and the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida respectively.

There are no "undecided voters"

Any dipshit actually undecided at this point is not going to vote and likely never has or will. Nothing will change that.

Most of the alleged "undecided" have long ago decided, but they love the attention. Go on, woo me! Yeah, woo me! Oh, Baby! Oh, I don't just know! Are there complimentary gifts?

Either way, the percentage of "undecided" is vanishingly small and it's a bullshit narrative that benefits only the press and those collecting campaign dollars.
